

Key qualifications

For students who have proved their German knowledge with a level A2 at the beginning of the study program, they must substitute the credits related with the German courses with “key qualifications”. These courses are offered by the university with more than 100 options from different fields of knowledge. The detailed information of the available options can be found in the C@MPUS system for enrolled students; however, there is a brief description by category in the following link.

The students who have to take “key qualifications” must fulfil 6 credits in this category in order to reach the 120 credits required to obtain the Master of Science degree. If you want to know more about the “key qualifications”, you can find the contact information in the link below.

The MIP office suggests for students to wait with these details until they will be enrolled and have started their MIP-studies. Then the individual situation can be analysed and the appropriate combination of German courses and/or key qualification courses will be determined in consultation with the Course Director.
